Connected?

Those that are close to me, know that a regular day for me is often filled with numerous meetings, emails, and business calls. As I was conducting business earlier this week, the strangest thing happened to me. My cell phone rang, I clicked my bluetooth to answer the call and said, "Hello," but surprisingly there was no one that responded on the other line. I immediately looked down at my phone to see if the person was still on the line. They were, but I still wasn't hearing their voice through my bluetooth. In a split second, it occurred to me what was actually taking place, and why there was no connection to my bluetooth. Ten minutes before that call came in, I had stepped out of my vehicle, leaving my cell phone behind. Once I stepped away from the vehicle, the bluetooth disconnected from the phone. Even though I returned to my vehicle, with the bluetooth still in my ear, and put the phone back in its holster, I hadn't realized that the disconnection had already taken place.

There are times in our lives that we can become so very preoccupied with a list of things to do, that we can undergo an invisible disconnection from the presence of the Lord. On the surface, things appear to be fine, but suddenly His voice that was so clear, becomes unrecognizable. There is comfort in knowing that if you ever get disconnected from His presence, reconnection is close by.

Isaiah 35:5 says, "Then the eyes of the blind shall be opened, and the ears of the deaf shall be unstopped."

To live a successful life, God's presence is never an option, it has to become a priority. Are you connected?
